INDIANS WIN FROM DELAWARE; LOSE TO THE SHIPBUILDERS

Cox Pitching Against Delaware
Features Indians' Third
Victory

Delaware Game

William and Mary defeated the University of Delaware here last Thursday, making the record to date three wins in three starts. Cox, a member of the scrub team last year, was on the mound for the Indians for the first time, and his box work justified Coach Driver's faith in starting him. He allowed the Northern nine five hits, walked two men, and fanned five. His control was splendid, considering the fact that the game was begun in the rain, and the balls throughout the contest were wet and hard to handle.

Brilliant fielding plays on the part of both teams, coupled with the pitching of Cox, featured the contest. White speared a hot drive over second with one hand, and robbed Nutter of a sure hit. Nutter, to even up things, made a shoe string catch on a line drive to right field off Cox's bat. Jack Chalkley, playing first base in the absence of Cooke, who was out

DEBATE TIED

W. & M. and University Split
Even In Dual Debate, Both Affirmatives Winning

The annual joint debate with the University of Richmond, held on Tuesday night, April 11th, again resulted in a tie; but for the first time since the joint encounters have taken place, both home teams lost. While Dickinson and Duke were winning at Westhampton by a two to one decision of the judges, the Richmond visiting team obtained a unanimous decision over Winder and Mawson composing the William and Mary home team.

The question debated was again, "Resolved: That the principle of the

Easter Holidays

Easter Holidays at the college commenced Thursday, April 13, at 4 p. m., and continue until the following Tuesday at 8:45 a. m. Many students will go home, and a large number are expected to stay in Newport News and Norfolk to see the two games in those cities. Some students are expected to stay at the college.

The baseball team will remain here for the holidays, playing Lafayette Friday, and the University of Richmond in Newport News Saturday and in Norfolk Monday.

SUMMER SESSION

Greatest In History of School,
According to Plans Completed To Date

Plans for the largest summer quarter ever attempted by the College of William and Mary, with a greater variety of courses than has ever been offered before, have been practically completed, according to an announcement by Dr. K. J. Hoke, Director of the Summer Quarter. The enrollment will exceed that of any previous session, as over two hundred rooms have been reserved to date, as compared with forty reserved at this time last year.

The first term of the Summer Quarter will begin June 14, and close July 25. The second term commences July 26, and ends September 1. Convocation will be held on September 2, to permit those who have completed their requirements to receive their degrees before Commencement exercises in 1923.

Among the special courses arranged for the Summer Quarter are those leading to certificates of the following kinds: elementary certificate for either primary or grammar grades, special certificates for high school teachers, normal professional certificates, collegiate certificates for high school teachers, collegiate professional certificates for high school teachers, certificate of renewals, and certificates covering the requirements of the West Law.

In addition to the courses in education, there will be many other collegiate courses, including Greek, Latin, Biology, Chemistry, Economics and Business Law, History and Government, Home Economics, Foods, Mathematics, Spanish, French, Physics, Psychology and Philosophy, and Physical Education. Other courses

CADETS DEFEAT INDIAN SQUAD

V. M. I. Wins Dual Meet 82-44—
W. & M. Shows Up Well
Despite One-Sided
Score

William and Mary lost first track meet of the Indian schedule last Saturday, when the local track squad lost to the V. M. I. Cadets by the score of 44 to 82. Despite the fact that the visiting team nearly doubled the score on the wearers of the Orange and Black, the meet was a most interesting and exciting one. William and Mary's greatest upset came in the dashes and the two mile run, where out of a possible 27 points, the Indians scored but one.

Drewry and Summers emerged with first places in the weights, the former winning the javelin and discus, while the big Cadet tackle won the shot. Drewry hurled the javelin 169 feet on one try, but fouled. He beat Moore out by only 4 feet in his winning throw.

Costello, of V. M. I., scored three firsts for the Red, White and Yellow, winning the century, the 220, and the 220 low hurdles. He made very good time in all his races, considering the slow track.

People Unable To "Endure Pleasure"

Says Dr. Giddings In Course Of Lecture Here Last Week

Loss of the principles of self-government, self-management, and self-control through a division of "national consciousness" will result in this country unless the people as a unit throw off their "intellectual laziness" and stop being governed by a "lot of self-appointed censors and legislators," Dr. Franklin H. Giddings, Professor of Sociology and History of Civilization, of Columbia University, New York, declared here today in the course of a lecture to the students of the College of William and Mary. Dr. Giddings was the guest of the college for the day.

Unless the people of the country collectively do things in "man fashion," Dr. Giddings said, there will

Enjoyable Dance

With a number of visiting men and women in attendance, including some of the members of the V. M. I. track squad, the Monogram Club staged an attractive and enjoyable dance in Jefferson gymnasium Saturday night. The music was furnished by the college orchestra.

COED DANCE

Women Students Through Their
German Club Stage Attractive and Enjoyable
Dance

The coed dance given by the women students' German Club last Friday night was one of the most successful affairs of the season. The decorations were particularly attractive, the gym, being decorated with Japanese cherry blossoms, and multi-colored paper streamers. Although every member of the German Club helped to make the affair the success it was, credit is in large measure due to Dorothy Terrell on refreshments, Mabel Stratton on music, Martha Flippo on chaperones, Frances Gibbons on decorations, Elizabeth Van Laer on invitations, and Elizabeth Smith on cards. The music was very good, being furnished by the McDaniel's Super-Six Orchestra, of Newport News.

Among those present were, the following: Virginia Blalock with Horace Hicks, Elizabeth Kent with Bill Hoskins, Rebecca Duncan with Monk White, Ruth Pilcher with Stanley Gay, Marion Rhodes with Floyd Sumner, Vernon Jeter with Bob Wallace, Florence Holston with Jim Hatcher, Mabel Stratton with Allie Stephens, Margaret Tuthill with Bill Christian, Ann Trundle with Pete Parker, Mary Zehmer with Doyle, Anita Rucker with Charles Pollard, Mary Ayres with Otto Lowe, Myree Hutchings with

Lafayette Will Be Here Friday

Contest With Pennsylvanians Will Be Hard Fought One, Is Belief

Four games are scheduled for the Indians in the next seven days. Commencing with Friday's hard contest with Lafayette here, the local tossers play three games in four days, including the most important ones on the base ball card. Saturday the Indians meet the Spiders in the first of a three game series, in Newport News. Monday the two teams go to Norfolk for the second game. The last game before the Northern trip is with Randolph-Macon here next Friday.

It is thought that Harwood will work against the Lafayette nine, and Thompson will open the Richmond-William and Mary series Saturday. Harwood will go against the Spiders Monday. Just who will work against the Yellow Jackets is a matter of doubt.

Page Lectures On George Wythe

Hon. Rosewell Page, of Richmond, Va., Second Auditor of Virginia, in delivering the eleventh of the series of constitutional lectures being given at the College of William and Mary under the auspices of the Marshall-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship, Saturday, told of the life of George Wythe, one of Virginia's greatest sons, and first teacher of law in America. Mr. Page read a number of notations made by Wythe in his law reports, showing how modern was the reading of the great Chancellor.

A number of the opinions of Wythe, Mr. Page said, rank with those of his famous pupil, John Marshall. Others are filled with quotations from Latin and Greek scholars whom Wythe quotes as authority for his opinions.

The lecture today on George Wythe was given in order to give the students an opportunity of learning something of one of the men after whom the School of Government and Citizenship is named. A lecture on the life and works of John Marshall will be delivered in the near future.

Electric Clocks In Big Hostelries

Installation has just been made by the General Electric Company of the Warren electric clock system in the annex to the Plaza hotel in New York. This represents the first hotel in New York in which this system of regulating clocks has been utilized. It is the second installation of the sort in any hotel, the first having been made last year in the Ritz-Carlton hotel at Atlantic City, where the clocks have been thus regulated with much success for the last seven months.

In the Plaza installation there are about 50 clocks, located in the main rooms, in the foyers, salons, drawing rooms and dining rooms. They are operated by small generators which convert the direct current of the hotel's lighting circuit into alternating current for the purpose of the clock system. The converters, the master clock and the control panel are all located in the telephone exchange of the hotel, on the first floor.

Tiny motors, so small that one of them easily nestles in the palm of the hand, are geared to the dial hands of each the secondary clocks connected with the system. These small motors, which take the place of the usual intricate clock mechanism and which are of the synchronous type, will operate the hands of clocks of any size. Big clocks with dials five feet in diameter and little clocks with dials whose diameters are only three inches are regulated equally well by these smallest of motors, none of the dimensions of which exceed three inches.

Absolutely uniform time is shown by every clock of the system at a given moment. The system is also self-regulating, and therefore independent of voltage or frequency fluctuations incident to the power lines from which it draws its current.

The master clock exercises constant control over the power generating apparatus which drives the individual motors of the secondary clocks. This control by the master clock enables all the secondary clocks to keep accurate time.

The reliability of this system, as revealed in actual service, is believed to bring prominently to the front this novel idea of thus electrically operating clocks for hotels, office buildings, manufacturing plants and institutions where it is desired to have a large number of clocks and to insure that they will all keep accurate and uniform time.

ELECTION OFFICERS

The election of the Whitehall Literary Society held Saturday night resulted in the following officers for the coming year:

Elizabeth De Shazo, President; Elizabeth Smith, Vice-President; Muriel Valentine, Secretary; Elizabeth Jackson, Treasurer; Dorothy Williamson, Chaplain; Helen Lannigan, Literary Critic; Virginia Isley, Parliamentary Critic; Anita Rucker, Chairman of Program Committee; Winifred Benschoten, Chairman of Dramatic Committee; and Florence Fleet, Chairman of Music Committee.

SHEWMAKE LECTURES

Prof. Oscar L. Shewmake, of the School of Government and Citizenship, delivered a lecture to the members of the Woman's Club, of Norfolk, Monday night. Mr. Shewmake's lecture was on the "English Constitution Under the Tudors," the same lecture he gave here as one of the Marshall-Wythe series of constitutional lectures.

with a stiff leg, made some good stops. Due to the uncertainty of pegging, Chalkley had some hard chances, but got away with them all.

Rothrock, the pitching ace for the visitors, was touched for six hits, and showed a tendency to wildness, walking six men.

Delaware began the scoring in the second inning, when Yap doubled, and scored on Murray's single to left. In the fourth the Indians took the lead by scoring three runs. Cobb was safe on an error, Chandler, J., and White, walked. Chandler, F., got his second hit, a single to right, and Cobb and Chandler, J., scored. Sumner was safe on an error, and Chandler, F., counted on the same play.

Another run was added by William and Mary in the fifth, when Lowe slammed one over the right field fence. Delaware scored its second run in the sixth, on a single by Wilson, a bad throw by Chandler, and a single by Yap. Yap and Wilson got four of Delaware's five hits. The visitors threatened to score in the eighth. Wilson singled, and McDonald walked, after McCormick had fled out.

With first and second occupied, Yap fled to Lowe, and Jackson was out on a fielder's choice. The game was called after the eighth, to allow the Delaware nine to catch a train. William and Mary plays Delaware on the Northern trip.

Newport News Wins

Newport News State League Club swamped the Indians in the first of a two game series, by the score of 13-5. Listless playing by the Indians, and inability to hit in the pinches, were responsible for the loss of the game.

The Builders started out by proving easy meat for Thompson. For four innings the Indian southpaw held the visitors, but in the fifth the deluge started. Palmer, a pinch hitter, was safe. Whitcraft got an infield hit when Hicks stopped the ball in short center and was unable to throw him out. The Builders got three runs before the frame was over, by way of several hits, passed balls by Chandler, and an error. The Builders scored one in the sixth, and eight in the seventh, in a medley of base hits, errors, and two hit batsmen. Harwood relieved Thompson in the eighth and held the Builders hitless, although they scored one run, when Avery walked, stole second and third, and scored on Chalkley's bad throw.

At the opening of the contest, it looked as if the Indians were to have an easy day. Hicks walked, and scored on Cobbs triple. In the third Thompson singled, Hicks singled, and Cobb scored them both with a double. In the ninth William and Mary added two more. Denton walked, stole second, took third on Lowe's out, and scored when Hunsinger muffed Cobb's grounder. Cobb stole second and third, and scored on Joe Chandler's hit.

The team appeared to have an off day. "Pep" was missing, and part of this was due, it seems, to the student body, who have failed signally this year to back the team wholeheartedly. The spirit has got to come from the students as well as the team.

THE DUAL TRACK MEET

The track meet between the Indians and Keydets, we believe, was one of the best sporting events on the athletic calendar for the year. It helped to cement athletic relations and stimulate contests of various kinds between the two schools.

Further than that, it showed that William and Mary, given a year or so of training and experience in track, will be able to compete with the biggest colleges and universities of the South in track meets. The Indians looked exceedingly good, scoring as they did, against a college that has had track as a major sport for half a decade. Incidentally, the Orange and Black did better against V. M. I. than Washington and Lee did against Virginia, and better than Davidson against Virginia Tech.

Mr. Gooch has laid the cornerstone and started work on a branch of athletics on which, we hope, with the coming of Coach Tucker Jones next year, will be built up a great track team at William and Mary. Too much credit cannot be given Coach Gooch for what he has done.

VALUE OF TRAINING

(The Daily Press)

"The debating team of Colby College, which met the William and Mary team in the intercollegiate debate last Tuesday night, deeply impressed those who heard them with the value of training. Colby College has a School of Public Speaking, with a trained man at the head of it, who coaches his pupils in all the arts of oratory, and he is making a tour with his team through the West and South. His pupils are taught how to speak effectively; how to be at ease on the platform; how to make natural and graceful gestures; how to control the voice; how to emphasize their own points and answer those of their opponents, and the result is much the same as with those who have received intelligent instruction in the gym, or on the ball ground. The training gives them the weapons of attack and defense and teaches them how to use their weapons with the best effect; and that gives the pupils a certain confidence in themselves and their abilities which is half the battle in any sort of a contest. That is what education is. It is training for the work one has to do, whatever that work may be."

Interest in this is increased by the fact that the editor of the Press acted as one of the judges in the recent debate with Colby.

STUDENTS CAN DO IT

(The Ledger-Dispatch)

"Drinking by the students has been banned by the student council of William and Mary College! Almost any sort of monograph might be written on this subject, ranging from a dissertation on the changed thought that now inspires students in this historic college, chartered by the King and Queen of England for the benefit of their cavalier colonists, to a lamentation based on the increase in drinking since prohibition laws went into effect. Such a scholar as Mr. Robert M. Hughes or as Dr. J. Lesslie Hall could trace, wittily and informatively, the changing habit of life and of thought at William and Mary which has led to this striking pronouncement since the days when the amount of hard and soft liquors permitted students was prescribed by the college authorities.

"As a matter of cold, prosaic fact, no action taken by any student body in the United States—since the adoption of the honor system—as held so much promise of good as this remarkable resolution adopted by the student council of William and Mary and published as a warning. All these resolutions adopted by all the faculties have done little; such a resolution as this should, and will, accomplish much. When drinking at colleges and universities is frowned upon by the students themselves, drinking will stop. At present and for many years, drinking is and has been rather "smart" and the youngster who gets stewed, plastered, lit, soused, potted is inclined to think, 'What a great boy am I' Most of these youngsters don't drink, in the beginning, for the love of it. Quickly enough, they learn to love it; but when they start, it is from sheer bravado or because of the imitative-ness of the small boy, whom they have not yet outgrown. And as a further and pitiful fact, many a youngster has learned to love it so that the love has never left him.

It's all very well to say that each man should take care of himself. So he should. But, though universities try to deal with students as men and though the students like to think of themselves as men, they are not men: they are boys, and they need discipline. Faculties know this, because they are composed of men who, no matter what the students think, remember their own boyhood. But they are hampered by tradition and by the innate perversity of the mind which is still the small-boy mind, and they can do little.

"The students can do it all. If the student council of William and Mary succeeds in its high and courageous effort, it will do a great thing: it will save many a youth from failure and degradation."

Students in India are joining with other national groups in passage of resolutions condemning liquor shops and the use of liquor. This is one phase of the Gandhi movement, which maintains that beverage alcohol is sapping the vitality of body, mind and soul of the Indian nation. One unique fact is the system of pickets under which volunteers stand near liquor shops and in the name of religion and country ask the ingoing customer not to drink. If the customer persists, the picket falls on his knees and begs him not to drink. Some pickets carry bottles of milk and offer the thirsty man free milk to drink. In some places, the drinker is boycotted. The movement is very successful in cutting down drinking and in closing saloons. Several of the independent states of India have adopted prohibition in varying forms.

"Buck" Young was high scorer for the Indians, with two firsts and a second place. He was second high scorer of the meet. "Buck" cleared the pole vault at ten feet, the high jump at 5 feet 3, and won the broad jump with a mark of 200 feet, 4.

"Scrap" Chandler easily took his two events, the 880 and the mile. While his time in neither was remarkable, nevertheless he was not closely contested in either race, winning each with a good margin, and apparently in good shape.

Dietz had a run of hard luck, as all his events came one after the other, with no rest in between. He copped his first entry, the high hurdles, and came third in the low hurdles.

Judging from the first meet, it appears as if the Indians have the nucleus for a well balanced track team.

The V. M. I. men impressed everyone with their clean sportsmanship and gentlemanly conduct, and it is hoped that other athletic contests will be arranged between the Cadets and the Indians.

The summary follows:

100 yard dash—Costelo, V. M. I., Shannon, V. M. I., Metcalf, W. & M.; time 10 1-5.

Mile run—Chandler, W. & M., Gwathmey, V. M. I., Reese, W. & M.; 5:07-4-5.

200 yard dash—Costelo, V. M. I., Watkins, V. M. I., Shannon, V. M. I.; 20-3-5.

120 high hurdles—Dietz, W. & M., Brown, V. M. I., Ramey, V. M. I.; 17-2-5.

440 runs—Yarborough, V. M. I., Buch, V. M. I., Hancock, W. & M.; 55-2-5.

Two mile—Settle, V. M. I., Ramey, V. M. I., Rimmer, V. M. I.; 11:32-1-5.

220 low hurdles—Costelo, V. M. I., Kellogg, V. M. I., Dietz, W. & M.; 27-3-5.

880 run—Chandler, W. & M., Briggs, V. M. I., Buch, V. M. I.; 2:09.

High jump—Brown, V. M. I., Young, W. & M., Sims, V. M. I.; 5 ft. 4.

Discus—Drewry, V. M. I., Sumners, V. M. I., Harwood, W. & M.; 113 ft. 11.

Broad ump—Young, W. & M., Levvy, W. & M., Watkins, V. M. I.; 20 ft. 4.

Javelin—Drewry, V. M. I., Moore, W. & M., Joyner, W. & M.; 150 ft. 6.

Shot put—Sumners, V. M. I., Westcott, V. M. I., Potter, W. & M.; 40 ft.

Pole vault—Young, W. & M., Hicks, W. & M., Sims, V. M. I.; 10 feet.

Roomsche Katholieke Drankweier Interacademia is the name of a vigorous society among the Catholic students of Holland. Its name means Catholic Intercollegiate Prohibition Association against Alcoholism. Among the other students are two similar organizations, one for university students, called interacademial Geheel Onthouders Bond, with clubs in six universities, and the other among students of secondary schools, called Nederlandsche Bond von Abstinente Studeerenden.

Two literary societies, organized in 1835 at Wake Forest College, North Carolina, are yet active. They have a joint sinking fund and are considering the erection of a literary society building.

S. I. N. A. Convention To Be Held April 28-29

S. I. N. A. Headquarters, University of Richmond.—After considerable delay the time and place of the second annual Southern Intercollegiate Newspaper Association convention have been decided and Furman University at Greenville, S. C., will be the host April 28 and 29.

Efforts were made early in the year to locate the next gathering of the college journalists more in the center of the territory covered by the youthful organization; Greenville, located in the Southern part of South Carolina, serves this purpose.

With final selections made invitations have been mailed to every college and university in the South to send representatives and this convention is apparently to be largely attended. Both men and women are eligible as delegates. New members have been reported by the regional vice-presidents, and the membership of the association will evidently increase materially by the meeting time.

Keen interest has developed in the editorial contest, which is open to every Southern college and university, the subject being, "Contributions of the College Newspaper to College Life." Additional interest is likewise aroused in the journalistic contest.

As yet definite arrangements for the program have not been completed, nevertheless the most absorbing item that will likely come up before the open discussions will be ways and means of making the association a greater functioning body. Many things have developed since the initial gathering at the University of Richmond that will call for legislation.

The Southern Association of Newspaper Publishers has heartily endorsed the association by agreeing to contribute annually the gold medal for the editorial contest.

Will the extension of university service and instruction never end? We are all familiar with correspondence study, university extension lyceum and chautauqua, Farmer Short Courses, Business Administration, Consular Service, highway engineering, and similar odd courses. But now we find schools of navigation, schools of aviation, play schools, short courses for merchants, schools of methods for pastors, courses in jewelry designing, wool grading, stock judging, supervision of children's gardening, retail store management, aesthetic dancing, rural politics, social engineering, secretarial ethics, and office practice, as well as wireless service for farmers and film service for schools! And this list only scratches the surface of the thousands of courses offered in American schools.

The second largest political party of Germany—that of the independent socialists—recently put before the Reichstag a resolution asking for government investigation of American prohibition with a view to passage of a law permitting the sale of alcohol for technical and medical purposes only, according to a special correspondent of the Chicago Daily News.

Do Metals Get Tired?

By Prof. H. F. Moore
Engineering Experiment Station
Urbana, Illinois

Do the metals get tired? In school-days we "orated" about tireless "steel-sinewed" athletes. Now, the word "fatigue" is being used by men of science as the most suggestive name for certain kinds of failures of steel and other metals. Metal of apparently excellent quality breaks without warning in crank-shafts of air-planes, in parts of steam turbines, in other rapidly moving machines, in members of bridges subjected to vibration and frequent changes of stress. What are the causes? How can such failures be avoided? What are the limits of endurance of various metals under many repetitions of stress?

Answers to these questions became especially important during the war, and particularly in connection with military aviation. A committee of engineers and scientists organized by National Research Council and Engineering Foundation undertook a study. The problem proved complex and its study costly. But lives and property are in jeopardy through lack of knowledge. Therefore, the study has been continued. After the armistice, the Division of Engineering of National Research Council turned to Engineering Foundation for financial assistance. The Engineering Experiment Station of the University of Illinois has been connected with the early study and had the men and some of the facilities needed for further research.

In October, 1919, the three organizations mentioned entered into an agreement for two years, Engineering Foundation undertaking to provide $30,000 in installment as needed. A limited line of experiments was inaugurated. Certain manufacturers contributed test specimens of steel. Special machines were constructed and methods devised. Under known conditions many specimens are being subjected to millions of repetitions or changes of stress. Information of practical importance is emerging from the accumulating records of hundreds of observations.

Recently, the General Electric Company requested an extension of the program of tests to cover certain nickel steels in which it is interested as a builder of steam turbines. To meet the expense, the company offered $30,000. A supplementary agreement was undertaken and the new work has been started. The company gets, incidentally, the benefits of the experience already gained, the special facilities developed, and the general supervision of the committee of expert metallurgists and testing engineers, organized for this research by National Research Council and Engineering Foundation.

Other users and producers of wrought or cast metals can secure valuable information at relatively small cost, by taking advantage of the existing staff and facilities for expanding this research in fields of peculiar interest to them. Each group of special tests helps in the understanding of the general problem.

Students To Help Pay For Fire Loss

Subscribe Contingent Fees To Help In Restoring Interior of Famous Old Structure

To help the college in repairing the President's House, which was badly damaged by fire last week, the majority of the students of the college have subscribed their contingent fees for this purpose. Just what sum these fees will amount to is not known, but it should be at least $1,000.

The names of those subscribing have been turned over to President Chandler. The letter advising the President of the students' gift closes as follows:

"The students also wish to take this opportunity of expressing their sympathy for the President in his personal loss, and their desire to share in restoring this building in such a manner as shall be in keeping with its history."

DEBATE TIED

closed shop is justifiable." It will be noted that the affirmative, upheld by the visiting teams, was sustained in both decisions. The home teams of both institutions debated the negative.

Professor O. L. Shewmake presided at the local contest, which was held in chapel at 8 o'clock. The judges were Dr. G. W. Brown and Messrs. T. F. Rogers and F. W. Pitman, all of Williamsburg. While the fight here was close, Richmond won a well-deserved victory through out-arguing our team. No doubt the closer decision at Westhampton attests a still hotter fight.

This debate completes the schedule of the inter-collegiate debates arranged by the Debate Council to be held here. However, further debates are to be held with Johns Hopkins and New York Universities at Baltimore and New York City, respectively, on the same dates on which the William and Mary baseball team will encounter these institutions on its Northern trip.

PEOPLE UNABLE TO "ENDURE PLEASURE"

be a complete breakdown of civilization. The trouble that leads to unrest in this country today is lack of ability on the part of the people to "endure pleasure." Such a state of being led to the fall of Rome, and the French revolt against Louis XIV, he said.

Americans, he stated, instead of seeking their own petty pleasures and luxuries, should be trying to do something for the welfare of mankind. They are playing safe, he asserted. The people of this country are using the world for their own ends, he declared, and instead of using it for good, are abusing it.

The division of "national consciousness," Dr. Giddings said, has resulted in two sets of thinkers. One believes in "going the limit," he declared, while the other wishes to stop the rush by "multiplying the laws against various kinds of bad behaviour," and making laws declaring various breaches of propriety crimes.

SUMMER SESSION

offered are typewriting and shorthand, and music, as well as a number of others to be arranged.

Due to its reasonable expense, its accessibility, health conditions, climate, and high educational standards, the summer quarter at the college is proving more popular every year. This summer is expected to eclipse easily all former sessions. Many kinds of amusement and recreation have been arranged for the summer school students this year.

The faculty to date, with others to be announced later, is as follows:

Pictures at the Palace Next Week

SHOWS AT 4, 7, 8:30 P. M.

MONDAY

You'd think that sailors would know enough not to "rock the boat," wouldn't you?

But they overlook the fact that a camera has to be held still, according to Bebe Daniels, charming star of "A Game Chicken" a Realart picture production which will be shown at the Palace Theatre next Monday.

Miss Daniels and her company were on a tiny tug shooting some "atmosphere" scenes of a big schooner off San Pedro, Cal., where the Pacific fleet has its home. When word got about the navy that Bebe Daniels was on the little boat, there was a continual procession of launches and powerboats past the tug, with gobs and officers eager to catch a sight of the brilliant and captivating young star.

The waves from their propellers rocked the tug so that Cameraman George Folsey couldn't keep even as big an object as the schooner within the scope of his lens. Finally, in desperation and in order to get any work done, the director was compelled to send Bebe below—when the aquatic parade promptly disbanded.

"A Game Chicken" is an original story by Nina Wilcox Putnam and Fred Myton adapted it to the screen under the supervision of Elmer Harris. The supporting cast is of a high order and includes Pat O'Malley, James Gordon, Martha Mattox, Gertrude Norman, Hugh Thompson, Chas. Force and Mattie Peters.

TUESDAY

Any reference to the old romantic days of the famous Drury Lane Theatre, in London, is sufficient to set the blood of the true dramatic student tingling. In its heyday it was the birthplace of scores of sweeping successes, and across its boards strutted young players whose names later were added to the roll of the stage's great artists and geniuses. Of these none is more illustrious than the name of Edmund Kean, for history depicts no character whose life combined such startling contrasts of success and failure; such idolizing worship and tragic degradation.

Drury Lane Theatre, duplicated faithfully to the last detail, is pictured in "A Stage Romance," the William Fox photoplay which will open at the Palace Theatre Tuesday, with the beloved actor William Farnum personating Edmund Kean. It is said that Farnum has made a tremendous hit by his impersonation of that noted actor. The incident for which the Drury Lane playhouse was duplicated has been pronounced by Herbert Brenon, Farnum's eminent director, to be one of the finest dramatic surprises he ever encountered for use in a picture.

"A Stage Romance" was made in the New York studio of William Fox, and kept the entire plant agog with interest during its making.

WEDNESDAY

Five cameras, fifty mechanics and several hundred extras were used in taking scenes for "Boomerang Bill," a Paramount picture featuring Lionel Barrymore, at the Manhattan Casino in New York City. "Boomerang Bill" will be shown at the Palace Theatre next Wednesday.

The story required the taking of scenes in a dance hall where Boomerang Bill has a fight and meets the girl with whom he subsequently falls in love. Instead of building a dance hall setting in the Cosmopolitan studio, the casino was leased so that there would be no sign of artificiality about the scene. Those supporting Mr. Barrymore are: Marguerite Marsh, Margaret Seddon, Frank Shannon and Matthew Betts.

THURSDAY

"Eyes misty through tears shed over the horrors of foreign film invasion are herewith advised to dry up and brighten, and subjoined is one of the reasons why. The big, new production, American-made and entirely American in conception, development and treatment, will give cheer to the lachrymose and solace to the sorrowing.

"REPUTATION" is one of the really great feature productions of the year. Miss Dean in the portrayal of three roles is remarkably able in their enactment. We congratulate Mr. Laemmle and his artists on this production. It is another great advance toward the goal we all are striving for—complete and satisfying entertainment," says Arthur James, editor of the Motion Picture World, in speaking of Priscilla Dean's great photoplay, "Reputation."

FRIDAY

Following the sensational success of "Passion" in the United States comes "The Last Payment," a Paramount picture, starring Pola Negri, which will be shown at the Palace Theatre on next Friday.

"The Last Payment," according to reports, has been filmed in the same pretentious and impressive manner as "Passion" and promises to achieve an equally astounding success. It was produced under the direction of George Jacoby, the famous European producer.

The same qualities that won instantaneous recognition for Pola Negri in "Passion" are revealed by this star in "The Last Payment." As the beautiful but frivolous Lola, the star has a characterization of great power of which she makes the most. The support is highly satisfactory.

SATURDAY

Harry Fox, one of the greatest male stars on the screen, will be seen at the Palace Saturday in his most recent and best photoplay, "The Fox." He is supported by an admirable cast. The story of the play is an exceedingly interesting one. In addition to the feature picture, a Mack Sennett Comedy will be shown.

Three prizes of $100.00, $50.00, and $25.00 to undergraduate students of Indiana colleges for essays on "Why the Volstead Act Should be Upheld," are offered by the Indiana W. C. T. U. The contest closes April 26.
